

BLACKFEET COMMUNITY WATER PROJECT

September 13, 2002

Rainstorms this past weekend filled project site.

A pump (floating) removing water from inside sheeting

Well casing, prepared for installation alongside of intake pipe.

Contractor building grid guide for casing installation.

Overview, crane is holding pump inside sheeting.

Photos by John Monroe

Project continues to progress. Contractor hopes to have the inside of the cell cleared and to begin installing components inside by middle of next week.